

Doctoral workshop on

Law and Political Economy in Europe

A view from a private law and public law perspective

Marija Bartl

University of Amsterdam

Matthias Goldmann

EBS University

Discussants

Alessandra Quarta and Francesco Costamagna

University of Turin

Law and Political Economy is a methodological approach focusing on the role of law as a constitutive element of our economic and societal fabric, as well as a transformative factor that can help addressing some of the problems affecting it. As pointed out by the LPE Project Manifesto "Law conditions race and wealth, social reproduction and environmental destruction. Law also conditions the political order through which we must respond".

23 February 2023, 10 am

Aula H4 Campus Luigi Einaudi | Lungo Dora Siena 100/A - Torino